T Fixed Tables

Fixed tables can make a very big statement in your home, not only by design, but with the feature of its surface. Our tables are produced using glass, laminate and ceramic.

The glass tops are tempered to survive the riggers of day to day use, they can be clear or coloured or feature a marble look or sand blast effect that make our tables quite unique. Our Laminate tables also have some very distinctive texture and feature either with a timber or marble look but there most redeeming feature is there scratch and heat resistance.

The biggest change within our range over the last couple of years is in the area of Ceramic dining table tops, ceramic has many qualities

Ceramic can withstand daily wear and tear, they are easy to clean, they can be smooth or have texture and are non-porous making them easy to wipe down.

Ceramic tables can withstand heat and matt ceramic can also be scratch resitant, they are generally low maintenance. Unlike wooden tables, ceramic tables do not require regular care.

Ceramic tables come in a variety of colors and designs, adding a touch of elegance to any dining room making them very aesthetically pleasing.

Fining Chairs

Choosing your dining chair isnt an easy task from dinner time to homework hour, weekday family meals to weekend parties and opportunities to entertain; your dining chairs must exude both comfort and style, and integrate seamlessly within the surrounding environment for all manner of uses and occasions.

It's first important to recognise how you and your family use your dining chairs. Traditionally stored and used in the dining room, dining chairs are versatile seats that tend to match or complement the dining table in terms of their design and offer comfort and functionality to those using the table.

he breadth of dining chair styles means that there is something to suit every space - with the style playing a key part in the presentation of your dining space. You may also find that the ideal style of dining chair is heavily dependent on the dining table and the amount of space you have around the table.

This one may seem obvious but understanding the importance of scale means matching the right sized chairs with your surrounding space and the expanse of the dining table, for example the chair needs to be cpmfortable for a user to sit beneath the table with their legs bent at a right angle. But it's not all about seat height.

Consider the width of the chairs, how much space they take up when being used by an average-sized person, and how they fit into the space when not in use.

At Vetro, we have planty of dining chairs to choose from, in different sizes, colours, covers and finishes.

Bar Stools

Choosing the perfect stools for your kitchen can prove difficult for many people. Without knowing what style and height work best for the design of your kitchen you may never find what you are looking for. Thankfully, we have created a guide to make finding your counter height or bar stools for your kitchen island a seamless process.

THE FIRST, AND MOST IMPORTANT STEP, IS CHOOSING YOUR HEIGHT. It is important to know that your stool will fit into your desired area, our bar stools range in there seat heights from 63cm to 82cm this should allow you to select a stool allowing them to fit comfortably underneath the counter. After measuring your countertop or bar height, check to make sure your chosen stool fits within these height requirements. In general, you need between 23-33 centimetres between the stool and the counter or bar.

ALWAYS KEEP IN MIND THE FUNCTIONALITY OF YOUR STOOLS.

Picture the day to day activities in your home and try and imagine what will work best for that. If you are all about comfort, you may consider stools with arms, or swivel stools if you care more about mobility. If you have kids in your home, you may want to stay away from backless stools or upholstered materials. In kitchens with limited space, consider stools that can be stowed underneath the counter to save space. Most people use their kitchen stools daily, so make sure your choice serves its purpose in your home.

LASTLY, ON TO THE FUN PART... CHOOSING THE STYLE OF YOUR STOOLS. The style of stools you should choose varies greatly depending on the style of your kitchen. Whether your style is contemporary, classic, or rustic, you can find a stool to compliment that style. Allow for some contrast. Do this by avoiding stools in the same color as your island. Stools are the perfect way to spice things up in the kitchen, don't be afraid to play with different textures like Faux leather. Fabric or Velvet.

Accent Chairs

When selecting your Accent Chairs, start by selecting a theme, this will make it easier to choose the right furniture. A themed idea will make furniture to complement each other, and it's always good to get what reflects you.

Besides enjoying the beauty, think about how to choose the right furniture for your house that can make your daily life more comfortable. Look for basic needs and consider the purpose of every room.

This will impact on what furniture you will place in your home. Rattan furniture makes a room feel beachy and warm for example. If this is the style you are looking for, you can view a selection here.

Additionally, consider the type of activities in each specific area when you choose the right furniture. Take measurements of your space and identify the right size of furniture that is required. Your lifestyle, too, should also play a significant part when you are making your choices. A room meant for working or studying should look different from a place for relaxing. Trying to Choose the right furniture can be problematic for some people. Many people might not be sure of the right furniture to fix their house spaces. Trust your judgment no matter what others may recommend for you. You may probably find lots of great pieces.

Occasional Furniture

Transforming the functionality of your home can be as simple as introducing the right occasional furniture. But what exactly qualifies as occasional furniture, and how do you select the perfect items that balance practicality with visual appeal?

Today, they've become invaluable accents that offer style and function simultaneously. They're essential elements that complete and elevate our living spaces.

Falling for a beautiful piece of furniture is easy, integrating it into your home, however, can pose a challenge. Before succumbing to impulsive purchases, evaluate your home, starting with the fundamentals: sofas, armchairs, dining tables, beds, and storage. Once these are in place, you can consider what elements are needed to finalize the design.

Use your everyday experience within your home to identify functional gaps waiting to be filled by the right occasional piece.

Occasional Tables and Their Role

Often, tables are the first to be categorized as occasional furniture. Each type brings a different element to a room's design.

Coffee Tables: Anchor and balance your living room, while offering a stage for refreshments, reading materials, plants, or art.

Lamp Tables: These versatile pieces can support task lighting or act as a substitute for nightstands, even becoming pedestals for vases or plants.

Console Tables: Slim enough for hallways, their elegance and adaptability make them suitable for any room needing an extra surface for display.

Nest of Tables: They embody versatility, providing multiple surfaces when needed or conserving space when nested.

With the right approach, each occasional piece you choose can be an articulate statement, harmonizing with your lifestyle and enhancing your home's beauty.
